Professional Experience

The focus of Sachin Java's practice involves business and corporate law. From the corporate perspective, Sachin has experience in transactional matters including commercial contracts, commercial finance, corporate formation, governance and compliance, commercial real estate, mergers and acquisitions and divestitures.

Prior to joining the legal profession, Sachin served in several clinical research and healthcare administration operational roles at the Cleveland Clinic, and as an engineer for DePuy Orthopaedics, a Johnson and Johnson Company, which gave him experience in financial negotiation, accounting, project management, grant writing, business plan creation, engineering, clinical research, and medical innovation. Sachin utilizes his prior operational experience to assist clients in achieving success.
